

MEMOIR

Until now, I couldn't believe I stay in U.S. where is too far from my country. I don't know what you think about this but that's a great dream for anybody in my country. They think U.S. is a real heaven.

My thinking isn't different from them. Before I can here, I image many things such as skyscrapers, beautiful boulevards, etc. Actually, it isn't exactly. Why? It is very simple. I watch the movie and it affects me so much. On the other hand, I used to care what I talked because I can go to jail if I say something wrong about the government, I enjoy with the freedom in here. However, they have too much freedom.

The reason I said that simply they aren't respect to the teachers sometimes, and they aren't serious with love. They hug and kiss everywhere. Maybe, I am so weird but love is very important in my country. In school, if a boy holds a girl's hand, that's a very big deal. And if any teacher see it, you are perhaps been warning. And many things you couldn't think like uniform, hairstyle, shoes, etc.

I really felt boring, boring everything. However, my family and especially, my host family encouraged me so much. I tried, tried more that what I can do. And my result in school answers for my effort.

That was what I thought before.

My host family take care everything for me. I still remember when the weather became colder; she gave me the jacket and some sweaters. It made my heart warmer. My dad helps to explain for me some subject that I don't understand. And little brother- Anh and Khoa- always be friends with me. I show them their homework and they are my first little brothers that I have never had before.

Now, I just have only 6 days left in school. I feel sad. How time flies! Bottom of my heart, I just want to say only one word “ Thank you.” Thank you Aspect for helping me to have a chance to know about U.S. Thank you Rebecca who is my coordinator, she is so wonderful. And finally, thank you Dao’s family who give the cozy family to me.
